ABOUT ME

⦿ Dynamic and results-driven Cybersecurity major with a solid foundation in business operations. I have developed a diverse skill set through managing a successful UAE-based online startup, demonstrating strong communication and problem-solving abilities.
My experience includes working as a content writer in another company, serving as an intern and later community manager at NBlik, and working as a lead generator for a UK-based company. I also have technical expertise as a Java developer and Python developer, and experience in HR. I am driven by a strong work ethic, thrive in fast-paced environments, and am passionate about cybersecurity. I am eager to join a dynamic security team to apply my technical knowledge and learn from industry experts.
